

Free role play II

Task for the presenter

Choose one of the topics from Free role play I and prepare a short (3-minute) presentation about it. Be ready to deal with disruptive “problematic participants”.

Tasks for “problematic participants”

Choose an instruction and prepare to interrupt the speaker. Think about how you are going to formulate your question, request, opinion, comment or apology in the best way using the language you have learned. You can choose to be more or less polite.

1. The speaker is speaking too quietly.
2. You want more information about something the speaker says.
3. You disagree with the speaker.
4. You agree with the speaker and want to add some more information.
5. You want to know the time (e.g. the excursion to Škoda Steel).
6. You want to know what time (e.g. the restaurant is booked for this evening).
7. You have to leave the room to attend another meeting.
